

Workshop on: "Racism through the Lens of White Privilege: A Spiritual Quest"

By Rev. Jane E. Vennard

A spiritual quest is the longing to become our true selves. This longing requires us to look deep within for hidden or rejected parts of our ourselves. It is not comfortable to discover we are not who we thought we were. This is what happened to me when I came face to face with my white privilege. The purpose of this workshop is to explore white privilege as a way to know our selves more fully and to explore racism with integrity.

Story telling will be at the heart of our morning. Information and discussion will be minimal in our gathering. A packet of handouts, including information and resources, will be offered as we end.

Saturday, January 26, 2019
9:30 a.m. – 12 p.m.

First Unitarian Church
1400 Lafayette Street
Denver

Presenter: Rev. Jane E. Vennard was called to a ministry of teaching and spiritual direction and ordained by the United Church of Christ. She is adjunct faculty at the Iliff School of Theology, Garrett Evangelical Theological School and Columbia Seminary. She has a private practice of spiritual direction and leads retreats in a variety of ecumenical settings.

Free event.

To register: Please email
TrudyinDenver@gmail.com